LHC NOTICE:
FEMALE LECTURER UNDER
ACID ATTACK

LAHORE, APRIL 09, 2014:

On Wednesday, Lahore High Court Complaint Cell took notice on an application of a woman on administrative side that a female lecturer was attacked with acid.

The Cell has directed the District & Sessions Judge, Lahore to look into the matter and submit a detailed report regarding steps taken by police along with his own comments within a week.

According to details, three men, riding two motorcycles, threw acid on a female lecturer of University of Management and Technology (UMT), Lahore near her home in the Pakistan Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (PCSIR) Housing Society. Police said that the victim had hired a rickshaw from the university and was entering her home when unidentified men threw a polythene bag filled with concentrated acid at her. Police said, the bag hit the door and only a small amount of the acid came into contact with her face. The woman was taken to the Jinnah Hospital by a Rescue 1122 team where doctors said that 20 per cent of her face and eyes had been affected. Police said that father of the victim had submitted a complaint with the Sattukatla police but had not named a suspect. Her father said she was going to be married next month. (MEDIA CELL)
